

Moving to Costa Rica with Kids: Episodes 1 to 10: Expat Stories from the Family Freedom Project (Moving Abroad with Kids)

As she was writing The Family Freedom Project: A Step-by-Step Guide to Living Abroad with Kids, Liisa Vexler began to collect accounts from the expats she met in life and travel. How did they come to live the life they did? Each of their stories is unique and different, yet something about each one is also familiar. No matter where the families came from there was no doubt that there is a unifying theme. Each family has come looking for change. They are searching for more time with their family and more connection to each other, to their community and to the world in which they live. These are the first ten episodes in The Family Freedom Project Expat Stories series, each episode telling the story of a single family. Each family has a unique story, but there is a common thread that runs through them. There is always an underlying desire for connection and time that has people leaving their hectic life in search of an adventure or a new forever home. These stories will inspire and entertain you.
