

Puck of Pook's Hill (Illustrated Edition) (Dodo Press)

Joseph Rudyard Kipling (1865-1936) was a British author and poet, born in India, and best known today for his childrens books, including The Jungle Book (1894), The Second Jungle Book (1895), Just So Stories (1902), and his novel, Kim (1901). Among his short stories are The Man Who Would Be King (1888) and the collections Lives Handicap (1891), The Days Work (1898), and Plain Tales from the Hills (1888). He is regarded as a major innovator in the art of the short story; his childrens books are enduring classics of childrens literature; and his best work speaks to a versatile and luminous narrative gift. Kipling was one of the most popular writers in English, in both prose and verse, in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries. In 1907, he was awarded the Nobel Prize in Literature, making him the first English language writer to receive the prize, and he remains today its youngest-ever recipient. Among other honours, he was offered the British Poet Laureateship and a knighthood, both of which he refused.
